I dont know exactly why but I was thinking about my old friend today and it's been so long since I heard from her I searched Google and this is what I found ,all I can say is ,shocked, I'm so sorry to the family ,she was the first girl to ever kiss me on the cheek in first grade at recess and the teacher saw it and we both got in trouble, we remained good friends until she left missouri and she passed on my birthday of march the first , I am broken over this , I have so many great memories i couldn't even begin to list them all here ,she was my friend and she is missed

My friend, Nicky, as you were known growing up. Words can't describe my heartache with the news of your passing. Within the past year, you have been on my mind like God was trying to tell me something. Unfortunately, I have led myself down a dead end road as you have now left this earthly life. I have SO many memories and have shared many experiences with you that I will never forget. Some of my fondest being when we would take Dot's cigarettes and hang out by the pool all day when I spend the night almost every weekend (she never had a clue) or when we tied karate belts together to make a rope that we threw out the 2nd floor window at Yolanda and Jim's so we could sneak out of the house and stay up all night. (sorry Yolanda). I know we drifted apart and took different roads in life but I regret not attempting to stay in touch. Rest now my friend and I will see you again one day. My deepest condolences to Harley, Keoni, Delphius and other family members. Connie (Mattingly) Ward

Harley Satae lit a candle in honor of Nicole.

You were always with me mom even if it wasn't in physical, I have memories with you even when it hasn't been written with us together. You are a completion in my life when we were sent to meet. It's heart breaking to see you go. Life in paradise you will always have. Your loving son-Harley
