"Strangers, from strangers into brothers
From brothers into strangers once again
We saw the whole world
But I couldn't see the meaning
I couldn't even recognize my friends
Older, but nothing's any different
Right now feels the same, I wonder why
I wish they told us
It shouldn't take a sickness
Or airplanes falling out the sky
Do I have to die to hear you miss me?
Do I have to die to hear you say goodbye?
I don't wanna act like there's tomorrow
I don't wanna wait to do this one more time
One more time
One more
One more time
One more time
I miss you, took time but I admit it
It still hurts even after all these years
And I know that next time, ain't always gonna happen
I gotta say, "I love you" while we're here
Do I have to die to hear you miss me?
Do I have to die to hear you say goodbye?
I don't wanna act like there's tomorrow
I don't wanna wait to do this one more time
One more time
One more
One more time
One more time
One more time
One more time
One more
One more time
One more time
One more time
I miss you""

I never met Paul in person. We met online a few years ago and played numerous games, had great conversations and shared a lot of laughs. We talked a lot after the cancer came back and he was always in my thoughts and prayers. I'm truly sorry to his family for your loss. He was a great person and will be missed.

I forgot to tell you that Paul was about 3 or 4 years old. He got bit on the left cheek, so when the officer asked Paul said that his name is Paul Speedy Phillip Parker. Paul was quick to get something he was not supposed to have, and that is how he got that name.

I liked "Bones" better, but then, I was part of the theme. You have my condolences for your loss. I didn't deserve to have a friend like him, yet, we were brothers from the beginning. Avery A. Younger

Paul is my son and I love and miss him immensely. Remember bean bags? Paul was laying on his stomach watching TV with his little hands holding up his head, I looked over at him and he was asleep. He looked so sweet.
