Whenever I knew I was going to see Lena, I made extra efforts to look nice. She always loved the pretty toenails, shoes, clothes, etc. and her delight in it was a joy for me. Kawai and I were sitting at Maui Tacos and saw you and your mom leaving the movie theater on her last outing. We were so happy to see her out and about. It was beautiful to see you two sharing such tenderness in her last days.

Julie, I remember once when Jim and I were at Liliuokalani Park, and we met you and your mom, out enjoying the day. The two of you always seemed to have such a strong connection to life, to the beauty of nature, and to one another. Here's a virtual hug, and soon i will give you a real one. Love, Jeri
